SECTION III

VALUATION ANALYSIS & WORKINGS

In case of valuation for M&A, the emphasis is on arriving the “relative values” of the shares of the business of the companies to facilitate recommendation of “Share Swap ratio”.

The below table summarizes the approaches and methodologies of valuation with our comments.

Approach	Valuation Methodologies	Our Comments
Asset	Net Asset Value (NAV) Method	The Asset based method views the business as a set of assets and liabilities that are used as building blocks of a business value. The difference in the value of these assets and liabilities on a Book Value basis or Realizable Value basis or Replacement Cost basis is the business value. However, this methodology recognizes historical cost of net assets only without recognizing its present earnings, comparative financial performance of its peers and their enterprise values etc. Therefore, in general Net Asset Value only reflects the minimum proxy value of the company. In the instant case, the subject Companies are intended to be continued on a ‘going concern basis’, therefore, we have not applied the Asset approach for our Valuation Analysis.
Market	Comparable Companies Trading Multiples (CCM) Method	This methodology uses the valuation ratio of publicly traded listed companies and applies that ratio to the subject company being valued. The valuation ratio typically expresses the valuation as a function of a measure of financial performance or Book Value (e.g., Revenue, EBITDA, EBIT, Earnings per Share or Book Value). A key benefit of Comparable Companies Trading Multiples analysis is that this methodology is based on the current market price of peer companies which is generally viewed as one of the best valuation metrics as an observable input. In the case of HAL we have applied the CCM method of market approach to arrive at the fair value of the Demerged Business (Marine, EPC and other ancillary business) of the Demerged company.
	Market Price Method	Since Seamec is a public listed company on NSE and BSE and its equity shares are frequently traded, to arrive at its Equity Value per share, we have applied the pricing methodology prescribed under SEBI Preferential allotment guidelines as per Regulation 164 of SEBI ICDR Regulations, 2018.
Income	Discounted Free Cash Flow (DFCF) Method	The DFCF method expresses the present value of the business as a function of its future cash earnings capacity. This methodology works on the premise that the value of a business is measured in terms of future cash flow streams, discounted to the present time at an appropriate discount rate. The value of the firm is arrived at by estimating the Free Cash Flows (FCF) to Firm and discounting the same with Weighted Average cost of capital (WACC). In the DFCF approach, the appraiser estimates the cash flows of any business after all operating expenses, taxes, and necessary investments in working capital and Capex is being met. In the given case as Seamec is a listed company and since the information related to future financial projections of the company and its subsidiaries are price sensitive in nature and further given the uncertainties with respect to Covid-19 and its impact on business, we were not provided with the financial projections of the companies by their management. Considering the purpose of valuation being determination of relative share swap ratio and to ensure symmetry among the methodologies, we have not applied the Income approach for our Valuation Analysis.

The valuation of Demerged Business (Marine, EPC and other ancillary business) of HAL Offshore Limited and Seamec Limited with its basis is given below-

A. Demerged Business of HAL Offshore Limited

COMPARABLE COMPANIES TRADING MULTIPLES METHODOLOGY

Comparable Company Trading multiples methodology (CCM) uses the valuation ratios of publicly traded listed companies and applies that ratio to the subject company being valued. The valuation ratio typically expresses the valuation as a function of measure of financial performance (e.g., Turnover, EBITDA, EBIT, EPS or Book Value). A key benefit of CCM analysis is that the methodology is based on the current market stock price. The current stock price is generally viewed as one of the best valuation metrics because markets reflect observable inputs. The difficulty here is the selection of a comparable company since it is rare to find two or more companies with the same product portfolio, size, capital structure, business strategy, profitability and accounting practices. Whereas no publicly traded company provides an identical match to the operations of a given company, important information can be drawn from the way similar enterprises in Industry / Sector are valued by public markets.

We understand that the revenue generated by the Demerged Business of HAL Offshore Limited is diversified into 2 main segments viz: EPC business and Marine Business. Accordingly, we have undertaken the sum of the parts (SOTP) value analysis of these two segments to conclude the value of Demerged Business of HAL.

We have selected the peer companies based on the following parameters: -

- 1. Business Model: To arrive at the fair value of the EPC and Marine Division of the Demerged Company, we have used the CCM methodology, by comparing the Trailing Twelve Months (TTM) EV to EBITDA (EV/EBITDA) Multiples preceding the Valuation date of certain companies listed on Recognized Stock Exchanges in India belonging to the “Oil Exploration / Allied Services” Industry and “Shipping” Industries. We have considered only those companies whose Industry classification and business model (in terms of the principal products/services) is similar to company’s business model and accordingly performed a SOTP value analysis. For Industry classification, we have relied upon the Capitaline database.
- 2. Trade Volume: Only those companies have been considered, whose shares are frequently traded at National Stock Exchange (NSE) or Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) in accordance with SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2018.

(5) CWIP includes P&M under installation/ under development/ under dry docking based on Audited balance sheet date of Demerged Business as on 31st December 2021.

Note: It is represented by the management of HAL that recently as on 14 February, 2022, the Demerged business of HAL has subscribed to certain Secured Optionally Convertible Debentures (OCD) of Moon Beverages Limited ("MBL"). As this investment has been made recently and its conversion option rights are solely with "MBL", this may or may not result in any equity investment of Demerged Business of HAL in "MBL". Further, we have been informed by the management that as on the valuation date, there is no change in the valuation of this investment, accordingly no separate adjustment has been undertaken against this investment of Demerged Business of HAL in above workings.

Based on our analysis of the Demerged Business of HAL Offshore Ltd. and subject to our comments and caveats as further detailed in this report, we have arrived at the value per equity share of Demerged Business of HAL Offshore Ltd. at INR 634.70.
